Dhamma Sarovara, meaning 'Lake of Dhamma', is near the Dedargaon Water Plant on the Mumbai-Agra Road, occupying a very calm and peaceful 35-acre site. The Centre presently can serve about 80 students (50 male and 30 female), with a Dhamma Hall that can comfortably seat 80 and a pagoda with 40 cells. Double and triple-sharing accommodation is available. The dining hall and kitchen are presently temporary structures.

Two 10-day courses are held each month, besides two Satipaṭṭhāna courses every year as well as short courses for old students and regular children's courses on holidays. A few single rooms are expected to be built soon.
